Message From The Vice-chancellor

With great pride and pleasure, I cordially invite you to be a part of the Placement Process of Jamia Millia Islamia, one of the Top Central Universities in India. I would like to introduce you to the outgoing batch of trained and talented Social Work professionals from the Department of Social Work, ready to tempest the social sector.

Jamia Millia Islamia has been accredited A++ by NAAC in the year of 2021. NAAC accreditation determines the quality of the Higher Educational Institutions in terms of education, infrastructure, research, teaching & learning, and Jamia Millia Islamia has achieved yet another milestone by securing the highest grade awarded by the prestigious NAAC.

M.A. Social Work is a course offered by the Department of Social Work which is a UGC recognized centre for advanced study. It is a premier programme of the University and is well known for the quality of professionals that it produces. The COVID-19 pandemic created havoc everywhere but despite that, Jamia did not stop and has been imparting rigorous and quality education to its students through virtual teaching-learning mode and offline fieldwork. It continues to produce insightful, young and talented professionals for the nation. At Jamia, we make special efforts to develop an all-round personality of each and every student.

The students who have completed the M.A. Social Work Programme in the past have been well placed with reputed organizations. The alumni of our M.A. Social Work programme have generated global renown for the University. I am confident that the current batch of M.A. Social Work students will continue to uphold the high standards that the university stands for and will go on to contribute meaningfully to their fields as they are conscientious and thorough professional in the domain of Social Work.

I invite you to interact with our students and explore the possibility of engaging them to work with you and bring great laurels to your organization.

Message From The Head of Department

Greetings from the Department of Social Work!

Dear Recruiters,

With great joy and pride, I present to you the Placement Brochure of a group of energetic, motivated, enthusiastic, and enterprising budding professionals of M. A. in Social Work, class of 2020 – 2022.

Over the span of 54 years, the Department has developed unique pedagogy of theoretical learning as well as practical exposure of the field, consisting of classroom teaching, workshops, and concurrent field training with reputed governmental and non – governmental organizations. The behavioral and personality development labs, rural camp, skill enhancement and ability enhancement courses are designed to equip our students with sound professional training in sync with the latest developments in the field of social work profession.

In addition to academics, our students also take part in a number of co – curricular and extracurricular activities which provide them the requisite opportunities to grow beyond the classroom. This has systematically helped us in getting due recognition of our excellence in academics and practice, making Jamia Millia Islamia the 6th best Central University in the country this year, as per the NIRF university ranking.

I humbly invite you to participate in our campus placement process, hoping to nurture and grow old relationships and welcome new recruiters for a long – lasting and mutually beneficial relationship. I am confident that our students, who will eventually be selected from our Department, will not only shape their future but will also prove to be an asset to your organization.

Message From The Placement Director

With immense pride and pleasure, I take this opportunity to invite you to the Placement Programme at the Department of Social Work, Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi for the outgoing batch of M.A. Social Work 2021-22. I am pleased to introduce to you the vibrant and enthusiastic batch of competent students of M.A. Social Work, who are an amalgamation of passion and professionalism. These students were selected through an all India competition and have undergone two years (4 semesters) of intense training in core social work methods and techniques, along with more than 150 hours of field training each semester without any compromise even in the period of COVID -19 pandemic.

The course of M.A. in Social Work offered at Department of Social Work, is designed in a way to provide the students an exposure to the grass root realities and gain hands-on experience by using the variety of professional skills, methods and techniques that are taught as a part of the fundamental classroom teaching. The intensive Skill Labs, Field Work, Rural Camp and Dissertation have embedded the students with analytical and problem solving abilities and skills of Research and Documentation. The Department provides each student with personalized supervisory guidance to channelize their field work exposure into maximum learning experiences. Their training encompasses two broad areas, namely Social Development and Social Welfare aimed towards equipping them with the required knowledge and skills. The exceptionally trained Faculty at the Department makes genuine and persistent efforts towards shaping and nurturing the capabilities of every student so that they are well equipped to face the challenges and demands of the social sector.

The placement process of the department of social work has always been an enriching and engaging one both for the outgoing students and the organizations seeking to employ them. Each Placement agency is valued for the interest that they evince in our students and the efforts that they make towards this end.

With great confidence I invite you to Please visit the campus (or interact online, as the situation permits) with our students and recruit them for possible openings in your organization. I am convinced that your organisation will benefit immensely from your choice of professionals from our Department. This cohort, like their several accomplished alumni, shall not only shape the future with their high levels of passion and commitment but also make meaningful contributions in your organization.

Message From The Placement Co-Director

The placement process of the Department of Social Work, Jamia Millia Islamia, has always been an inspiring and engaging experience for both the students as well as the organizations that come for campus placements. The recent mayhem worldwide has caused the Department of Social Work, JMI to unlock certain opportunities and to customize its learning practices. We, at the Department of Social Work, keenly believe in imbuing boundless values, ethics and professional vigor in our students. From the commencement of the course and orientation itself, students are made aware of the intricacies of this profession and an endeavor is made to enable them to develop their skills and competencies. This, in turn, is achieved through the medium of field work, skill labs, group conferences, individual conferences and rural camp.

We not only ensure that the theoretical foundation of our students is strong, but also that the required skills, knowledge, and abilities that are pertinent to tackle the practical realm are extant in them. The students are trained and guided to develop the competencies and knowledge that a trained professional in the fields of Welfare and Development is required to have. Hence, I am sure that our students will strive to utilize and apply the blend of theoretical and practical knowledge to grow and contribute with full zeal and dedication to realize the missions and visions of the organizations they join.

As a Co- Director of Field Work and Placements, I am extremely pleased to welcome you to the Department of Social Work, JMI for selecting your prospective team members in the profession. I assure you that our students will not hold back in applying their proven professional skills and will always make an effort to deliver the best of their services in your esteemed organization. We are extremely delighted to welcome you to the placement process of the Department of Social Work, JMI for the batch of 2020 – 2022.

We look forward to a long – lasting relationship with you. For any queries, please don't be hesitant to connect with us.

About Jamia Millia Islamia

Jamia Millia Islamia, an institution originally established at Aligarh in United Provinces, India in 1920 became a Central University by an Act of the Indian Parliament in 1988. In Urdu language, Jamia means 'University', and Millia means 'National'.

Jamia Millia Islamia came into existence through the tireless efforts of its founders, such as Shaikhul Hind Maulana Mahmud Hasan, Maulana Muhammad Ali Jauhar, Hakim Ajmal Khan, Dr. Mukhtar Ahmad Ansari, Jenab Abdul Majeed Khwaja and Dr. Zakir Husain. The story of its growth from a small institution in the pre-independence India to a Central University located in New Delhi offering integrated education from nursery to research in specialized areas is a saga of dedication, conviction and vision of a people who worked against all odds and saw it growing step by step. They "built up the Jamia Millia stone by stone and sacrifice by sacrifice," said Sarojini Naidu, the nightingale of India. At present, Jamia Millia Islamia is an ensemble of a multi layered education system nurturing over 18000+ students, more than 800 full time faculty teachers, 9 faculties and 38 departments offering more than 200 courses. In 2015, NAAC accredited the University with 'A' grade etching its names among the esteemed Universities of the country. In 2020, Jamia Millia Islamia was ranked 1st among all central universities in the country in rankings released by Ministry of Education of India. Jamia Millia Islamia secured rank 6 in the NIRF 2021 ranking of the top 10 universities of the country. Jamia Millia Islamia has also been ranked top 4th central university in the country by Outlook ICARE Indian University Rankings 2021. The Times Higher Education World University Rankings ranked it 601-800 globally in the 2021 ranking 192 in Asia in 2021.

About

Department of Social Work

The Department of Social Work at Jamia Millia Islamia was established in 1967 with an aim to impart Social Work education at the under graduate level. Subsequently, in 1976, the post graduate programme in Social Work was introduced. In the year 1991 it was accorded the status of Department of Special Assistance (DSA) by the University Grants Commission (UGC), which was then followed by two more phases. The DSA and ASSISH have together strengthened the department both in terms of academic quality and infrastructure. After several phases of special assistance, in 2010, the UGC recognized the Department as a Centre of Advanced Study in Social Work. The Department of Social Work has been in the forefront of academic and field innovations in the country and has been consistently upgrading its curriculum to make it more responsive to the social challenges in India.

The Department of Social Work is well known for its teaching and instructional programmes. It maintains a progressive and people centred emancipatory focus in its pedagogy, research and field action. Presently, the Department offers the following instructional programmes: Masters in Social Work, Masters in Human Resource Management, Advance Diploma in Public Health and integrated M.Phil./Ph.D. Programmes.

The Department also prides itself in predominantly adopting the pedagogy of participatory learning, closely mentored internships in different settings of social work practice, experimental learning opportunities in primary as well as advanced skills of social work and regular interface with practising professionals. It boasts of first rate highly qualified and field grounded faculty. The Department also boasts of excellent infrastructure in terms of smart classrooms, a modern conference room, well stocked seminar library, a computer and data processing laboratory and an advanced behavioural and personality enrichment laboratory. The zest for evolving and at the same time maintaining quality keeps the department on its toes through each day and each moment.

Course Structure

The course structure of M.A. in Social Work is a four semesters, post – graduate program with a broad and generic base. The Program is open to graduates of all academic disciplines and is designated to meet the growing human resource requirements in the field of Welfare and Development.

The Program lays a foundation in Social and Behavioral Science and Social Work methods in the first two semesters. Skill labs are also aimed at understanding self, gaining communication and research skills, and participatory techniques. Moreover, in the second semester, the Department of Social Work organizes an educational camp for ten days for the students.

The advanced knowledge and exposure to Welfare or Development perspective (determined by the specialization that the student has opted for) is provided in the final year. Students who opt for Social Welfare as their stream in the third and fourth semester are provided with specialized inputs for working at the micro and meso level. Skill labs are also aimed at strengthening their competencies for direct intervention with the client system (therapeutic interventions and relevant tools). Field work opportunities to students are provided in organizations where opportunities for intensive individual and group level interventions are available (students are placed in mental health settings, statutory or non – statutory institutions involved in child protection or domestic violence, de – addiction facilities, services for differently abled, institutions offering counseling and care and support services, etc.)

The students opting for Social Development are trained to analyze macro social realities and understand its implications for human deprivation. They are assisted in developing a critical awareness of the social dimensions of economy and policy. The students acquire the ability for making interventions at the macro and meso level through policy research, advocacy, training and documentation. Skill labs are also aimed at strengthening their knowledge of tools of social and policy assessment, designing livelihood plans, skills of marketing and accounting, etc. Field work opportunities to students are provided in organizations having significant focus on policy analysis, advocacy, training, research, documentation, and networking (organizations working on issues of education, health, environment, gender, homelessness, informal economy, children, marginalized groups, governance, etc.).

Course Transactions

Orientation:

The Department of Social Work, Jamia Millia Islamia organized a week long orientation program for the enrolled students of Semester-1, batch 2020-2022. The program served as brainstorming trailer to the holistic learning and practice for the upcoming years in the social work practice. The objective of the program was to acquaint the students with an understanding of fundamental values, tools, methods and principles that lay as the backbone of the profession. During the transaction of this program the students gain an insight of a professional social worker's life through the diverse enriching field experiences shared by the expert resource persons from there dignified fields. The program entail an exposure to the diverse areas of social work profession involving education, poverty, marginalized communities, social movements, social action, livelihood, homelessness, children, health, challenges in pandemic, issues of the elderly, LGBTQ and Gender. Despite the limitations of the pandemic the online program was a massive success in imbining the students with the right impetus for growth and learning as future social work professionals.

Skill Lab:

Skills Lab sessions are an integral part of the department's goals. They are facilitated either by faculty members or people from outside resources. With the help of these sessions, students are trained and develop many skills throughout and at the same time their personality development takes place. During the first semester, the focus is on communication, questioning and personal development. During the second semester, students receive research training and prepare a research proposal as part of their assessment report. In the third semester, students receive training in computer applications as well as project-based training. Skills workshop topics include, but are not limited to, APA tools, group therapy interventions, research tool building, data analysis, life skills programming, skill retention in casework, defense, family therapy, budgeting, assessment, etc. Faculty instructors support the application of these skills in fieldwork.

Field Work:

Field work training plays an important role in the career development of social work students. It offers students the opportunity to apply theoretical knowledge, skills and values in organizational and community contexts. More importantly, fieldwork simultaneously creates a holistic understanding of social issues and their causal factors and offers the opportunity to reflect on intervention strategies. Because fieldwork is a one-year journey and involves rigorous training, students are placed in various government / non-governmental organizations. Each student is provided with a supervisor who guides him/her in achieving the basic objectives to understand the nature of the work. For each semester, the objectives are carefully designed to maximize the focus on the relationship between theory and practice. From understanding community dynamics to developing intervention strategies and applying the different tools and techniques, each student learns what it takes for a social worker to practice.

Rural Camp:

Rural immersions is one of the most significant scholastic components of the course. It exposes the students to the rural realities and is pivotal for training the students as professionals that are well acquainted to work in diverse settings. The department has successfully completed this component risk free in the online mode. The online rural camp had its own perks and pleasures, it was an amalgamation of workshops, movie screenings, participatory presentations, interactive activities and feedback sessions. The students gained an intrinsic understanding of application of various tools, techniques like PLA, PRA and methods of social work deployed in rural settings. The department also invited several Alumni of the department to enlighten the students with their memories, challenges and learnings from the camp. Students got acquainted with a variety of rural institutions and their functioning. The innovation with technology allowed the students understand and develop social skills and competence to work in rural settings.

Value Additions

Individual Conference

Individual Conferences (IC), a critical tool of supervision, is arranged to facilitate interaction and feedback between the supervisor and supervisee in a systematic and confidential setting, ICs are held every week during the assigned time. It provides a platform to discuss the issues and concerns arising out of field work. The supervisor facilitates the process to help students relate theory with practice, and monitors their progress in terms of accomplishment of field work objectives. It provides the student an opportunity to reflect on their strengths and areas of improvement.

Group Conference

Group Conference is a vital part of the field work training. It enables the students to develop some of the basic skills to become an effective social work professional. Group Conferences are held twice in the whole course duration; one during semester II, and the other during semester III. It provides the students the opportunity to get exposure to a wide range of areas. Each student is supposed to assume the role of a Chairperson, Presenter, and Rapporteur at least once in each Group Conference. It provides the students with an opportunity to experience the process of presentation of a formal academic and practice oriented paper, to chair and moderate a formal discussion in a systematic, precise and formal manner, and to develop an understanding of various settings and opportunities relevant to the field of Social Work.

Computer Classes

The Department of Social Work facilitates technical knowledge of computer programs like Microsoft Excel and Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS) to the students through the medium of computer classes. This aids in enhancing their technical competency and IT skills. Owing to the circumstances caused by COVID, the Department has made arrangements to impart the said technical knowledge through the platform of online skill lab classes and breakthrough sessions. This has enabled the students to equip themselves with the necessary technical competencies of quantitative analysis required in the professional context, aided them extensively in their dissertation process and has directly contributed to their process of learning as well.

Workshops

Beti Bachao Orientation Training Program by NIPCCD, WCD

StandUp Training program by Breakthrough

StandUp is an awareness and training program against street harassment, developed by Breakthrough and L'Oréal Paris in partnership with the expert NGO Hollaback!. The program offers a proven methodology – "The 5D" – to help both men and women to safely intervene if they witness or experience street harassment. It trained the students on how to safely defend themselves and to help victims of street harassment by using the 5Ds: Direct, Distract, Delegate, Document, Delay, beginning with Distraction, the simple act of interrupting an incident by asking the time or pretending to be lost. By opening the public eye to the scale of harassment women in particular, experience, the training aimed to simultaneously discourage harassers, support victims and encourage bystanders to intervene in a safe manner.

Project Management Workshop

A Project Management workshop was organized by the department of social work to acquaint the students with the intricacies and nuances of project management. The workshop emphasized on the value of project management and discussed the essentials for a good project proposal. The facilitator shared proposals from the field to draw an understanding of the various key elements comprising a good project proposal like thorough research, mapping out contingency, expanding possibilities and concerned policy frameworks are major areas of consideration. The facilitator through his hands on experience from the field expanded the perspectives on social work profession. The profession demands one's commitment towards constant learning and urging project responsibility, expanding beyond the traditional ways.

Placement Guidelines

1. The organizations that are interested in recruiting students from the department will have to convey their prerequisite in the prescribed placement form, as per the schedule communicated.
2. The slots for the prospective Recruiting organisation will be allotted based on the following points:
 - Job profile offered
 - Remuneration and Incentives
 - Geographical location and mobility
 - Number of positions offered
3. The name(s) of the selected candidate(s) will have to be communicated by the Recruiting organisation to the Department and the candidate(s) within two days of the placement process.
4. It will be appreciated if the Recruiting organisation can also provide the selected candidate(s) with the provisional offer letter.
5. Apart from the selected candidates, all the Recruiting organisations are requested to prepare a waiting list of candidates in order to avoid uncertainties.
6. The placement brochure should not be the criteria for any recruiting organisation to select or reject any interested candidate. It should be done strictly on the basis of the CVs that are submitted and the subsequent recruitment process.
7. If the recruiting organisation wants to conduct any off campus interviews, they are required to notify the placement committee in advance.
8. If the recruiting organisation is unable to visit the campus due to any reasons, the placements can be facilitated by the Placement committee through Web/Telephonic/Skype means. Personal interviews can also be arranged at the Recruitment organisation's office at a mutually convenient date.
9. Discrimination on the basis of caste, class, sex, gender, disability or religion leading to conflict among the candidate(s) will not be tolerated and will result in intervention by the Placement Committee.
10. Any information that the Recruiting Officer wants to convey to the placement committee about the placements can be communicated through placementcellmsw@gmail.com.
